

City of Scottville Master Plan Focus Group Schedule

The City of Scottville is currently undergoing a review of its Master Plan. This plan will be the guide to how the City moves forward in the years to come. As part of this process, the City is asking citizens to provide their vision for the direction of the City of Scottville. Below you will find a schedule of focus groups that focus on a particular segment of the population. The City asks that citizens attend the focus group that most identifies them in the community. All focus groups are open to any citizens and each will be similar in structure. Please attend any that accommodate your schedule. If you have any questions regarding the focus groups or the Master Plan Process, please feel free to call Amy Williams, Scottville City Manager, at 231-757-4729.
